

< Let us introduce you to...

C4ISR Journal, the authoritative publication for the net-centric warfare community, is proud to introduce Ben Iannotta, as its new editor.

With more than 20 years of news and technology writing experience at Space News, The Washington Post and Inside the Air Force, Ben brings a new level of thought and commitment to the leading publication on defense C4ISR technology. His launch into the journal as editor began with his "C4ISR from the editor" message, which appears in the March 2008 issue.

Ben welcomes your input and can be reached at (703) 642-7300 or at biannotta@atpco.com
